

MILITARY FIELD TRAINING, 1973

During our studies, at the end of the third year, we were informed that starting from the fourth year, our institute would introduce a tank military department. As a result, virtually all of us began attending the Military Department.

Classes for the Military Department were held in VTUZ Buildings No. 2 and No. 3 on Zhukova Street.

The Head of the Department was Colonel Vasily Abramovich Stupin, and the instructors were officers: Lieutenant Colonel Osin – technical training, Lieutenant Colonel Karpuhin – gunnery, Major Mironenko – gunnery, Major Burlak – gunnery, Major Gara – drill training, Lieutenant Colonel Konstantinov, and other officers.

Upon graduation, our female classmates were immediately awarded their diplomas and badges, while the male students received only their badges. We were told that our diplomas would be issued only after completing the two-month military field training, which took place in the Leningrad Region at a military base located on the banks of the Vuoksi River in the settlement of Pontonnoye, near the village of Romashki.
